DETAILS ARRANGED

Athletic Meet Will Come Off Next Saturday.

The Boys' Brigade field day will be held next Saturday afternoon at Kapiolani Park, and arrangements are now complete for what will probably be the greatest athletic contest ever held in Honolulu. The following six clubs will contest for the prize, a handsome and expensive trophy, now on display in Pearson & Potter's window: Honolulu Athletic Club, Maile Hima Athletic Club, Punahou Athletic Club, Kamehameha Athletic Club, Y. M. C. A. and Artillery.

Princess Kawananakoa will occupy a special box, which will be handsomely decorated for the occasion, and will crown the successful contestants with ilima leis.

One of the features of the meet will be the laying out of the 100-yard course in such a manner that each competitor will have a clear course to himself, marked off by tapes from the rest. This will prevent fouling. Each athlete will wear a number on his back for purposes of identification.

The standards for the high jump and pole vaults will be boxed for the sake of greater reliability and facility in handling.

Clerk of the Course Torbert is determined that each event shall be pulled off on time, and it is safe to say that there will be no tedious waits between events. Captain Berger will be present with the government band, and has promised a specially attractive program.

The entries will be closed this evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Y. M. C. A. Already some sixty names have been given in, assuring the finest field and track athletic contest ever planned by local athletes. A full list of officers of the track will be published later.

Great interest is apparent in local sporting circles, as to which will prove the successful team. The Kamehameha seem to be the favorites, with the Punahou much favored for second place. It is possible that the Artillery and Maile Himas may develop unexpected strength. The Honolulu Athletics lost some valuable men by the postponement of the meet from last week, while on the other hand, some of the other clubs have strengthened themselves somewhat in the interval.

Mrs. E. D. Tenney and Mrs. Nellie Noonan are acting as patronesses of the meet. Tickets can be obtained from them or at any of the stores. From present indications the games will draw an even greater crowd than the polo game of a few weeks since. Tickets are only 25 cents each.

HE ANTICIPATED FIRST OF APRIL

In the tropical garden of the hostelry of the genial Camarinos, where the sugar cane grows large and long, and where the growing pineapple vies with the five-gallon beer keg in rotundity there occurred yesterday afternoon an incident which tickled the laughing point of those individuals who visit the resort. "Just to glance at the evening papers."

There entered a certain party whose condition, to say the least, was happy, and on whom the dust had been recently and thoroughly laid. Depositing himself in a chair he disposed of a couple of coolers, just to show that he had no ill will against the house, and then, after a while, arose and strolled around the lanai.

Now, at every table is an electric button, which communicates with the bar when pressed, and signifies that something is doing. Painted over the buttons are legends which read, "Please Push," "Very Touching," "He who hesitates is lost," "We Close at 11 p. m.," "What are you waiting for?" "It's up to you," etc.

Well, the individual in question mended from button to button and pressed every one of them good and hard. Then he fell back into a chair and awaited developments, which arrived on time.

The joker had hardly time to assume an expression of beery innocence before the hosts of the house were upon him, demanding what in the name of the primeval thirst he meant by anticipating April 1 by a day.

"Ish a' right, boysh," he explained, good naturedly; "Ish a' right and theresh no cause for alarm. I wash jush testin' shystem, thash all; no hard feelinsh, boysh; everythings lovely. 'Averdrinksh'?"

GAVE A LECTURE ABOUT DICKENS

The early life of Dickens was told in a well-prepared paper last evening in the rooms of the Y. W. C. A., by Mrs. W. G. Rogers, it being the first of a series of Dickens lectures, one of which will be given every Monday evening for several weeks. Mrs. Rogers is well versed in Dickens, including his works and life, and is acquainted with the scenes of many of the incidents told of by him. Her paper last evening dealt mainly in the early career of the great novelist until he had attained the ambitious assignment of shorthand reporter for the Chronicle in the gallery of the House of Commons.

Mrs. Rogers has been over the entire ground and visited all the places frequented by the young Dickens, and showed many photographs of buildings, especially of the old law buildings and Gray's Inn, where he passed a portion of his early manhood as a law clerk.

The lecture next Monday evening will be "His Earlier Works."

The last of Mrs. Walter Frear's lectures on Emerson will be given on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, in the Y. W. C. A. rooms.
